

Samuel Heiks, M.D.

About Me

I joined Primary Care Associates of Appleton because I value being part of a team that prioritizes excellent patient care and community commitment. This connection is personal for me, as my family doctor growing up was a founding member of PCA.

I chose to specialize in Family Medicine because it emphasizes a strong patient-doctor relationship, which I believe is the cornerstone of effective healthcare. I also enjoy preventive care, integrative medicine, and taking care of families, all of which are integral parts of my practice.

My work is meaningful because it allows me the privilege of getting to know my patients and partnering with them in their healthcare over time.

Samuel Heiks, M.D.

Education

Medical Degree:

Univ. of Wisconsin School of Medicine and Public Health,
Madison, WI

Residency:

UW Department of Family Medicine, Madison, WI

Professional Interests

Preventative Medicine

Sports Medicine

Integrative Medicine

Cardiovascular Health

Pediatrics and Adult Medicine

Personal

I enjoy spending time with my wife and three children, playing hockey and soccer, cross country skiing, and playing classical guitar.

(920) 996-1000

3916 N. Intertech Ct., Appleton, WI 54913